UCSUR PROPOSAL: Kanarazian Syllabary

Submitter: Reyvan Aprilian

Date: 2025-11-14

1. Introduction

The Kanarazian Syllabary is a fictional writing system used for the constructed language of Kanarazia. It is a geometric syllabary inspired by Japanese kana and arranged in a 5×10 goj■on-style table.

2. Justification

- Script is fictional and not part of Unicode.

- UCSUR Private Use Area encoding enables stable interchange.

- Repertoire is complete and well-defined.

3. Repertoire Summary

- 45 Core syllables

- 3 Combining marks

- 16 Y■on-like extensions

- 6 Punctuation marks

- 10 Digits

- Reserved code points

4. Code Range

U+F3090–U+F30FF

5. Encoding Model

All syllables are Lo. Combining marks Mn. Digits Nd. Punctuation Po/Cf.

6. Block Name

Kanarazian Syllabary

7. Files Included

UnicodeData.txt

NamesList.txt

Blocks.txt

Script overview